COVID-19

Since March 2020, Wyoming 211, in partnership with the Wyoming Department of Health, has provided a public telephone helpline for COVID-19 questions and information. Since this time, Wyoming 211 has handled nearly 4,000 calls from individuals seeking information related to COVID, whether it be directly or indirectly related.

Since December 2021, we have seen a steady decline in the number of calls from consumers, with a slight peak in June 2022. From October to December 2022, Wyoming 211 handled 47 calls related to COVID. These calls represent 4% of all calls received and handled by Wyoming 2-1-1 Community Resource Specialists. Since the beginning of the year, Wyoming 211 has handled 629 calls, or 17%.

When callers reach out to Wyoming 211, the Community Resource Specialist asks if the caller has been impacted by COVID. If the caller indicates that they have, the call is recorded as a COVID related call. This quarter, a large majority of callers were seeking rent and utility assistance and other housing stability services due to COVID. There were also 8 requests for food assistance and 7 requests for legal assistance. In 2022, the overwhelming needs were utility and rent assistance, followed by food and case management assistance. Directly related to COVID, callers needed general COVID information, how to control it and where to get testing. Overall, individuals are calling more to meet their basic needs as opposed seeking information related directly to the COVID-19 virus.

Wyoming 211 has also established a webpage on their website (<https://wy211.communityos.org/covid19-faqs>) that provides information related to COVID-19. Here consumers can quickly find access to the Wyoming Department of Health COVID-19 page that provides them with information on data, how to handle exposure, where to get vaccinated, etc. It also lists links to the CDC as well as where to obtain home testing kits and where find vaccination sites. As indicated in the chart below, the number of visits to this page is holding steady and consumers can find much of the commonly asked questions about COVID here.

Aging Population

In a coordinated approach between Wyoming 211 and the Aging Division network of providers, the Wyoming COVID-19 Aging Network (CAN) was developed. Wyoming CAN is focused on maintaining the quality of life for the home-bound elders in Wyoming. Keeping elders safe from exposure to the virus, while ensuring they are well-supplied, have access to medical and social services, and remain free from isolation is our top priority. This program offers an opportunity for older adults and caregivers to connect online with Wyoming 2-1-1 and share their care needs all on a single form. After submission, a Wyoming 2-1-1 Community Resource Specialist will reach out to connect the aging adult to local community resources. Unfortunately, in Quarter 4, Wyoming 2-1-1 did not receive any requests for assistance through the WYCAN program. While we did not receive any requests through WYCAN, we did connect with 133 callers as compared to the 3rd quarter results with 79 callers who were over the age of 60. The following chart depicts their top 15 presenting needs.

Enroll Wyoming

Since 2013, Wyoming 2-1-1 has partnered with Enroll Wyoming to help navigate the health insurance market place. There are two community resource specialists on staff who are trained annually as a Insurance Navigator who help individuals in need of health insurance, help them understand the Affordable Care Health Insurance Market place and review coverage options with them. If the individuals needs more specialized assistance, such as completing the application, our community resource specialists will refer the individual to a Navigator with Enroll Wyoming. Since January, 135 individuals have called 211 seeking health insurance. In total for 2022, we worked with 327 individuals. Of those, 78 individuals, or 24% fell into the Medicaid Gap.
